

- Commitment to independent research process.

We place great emphasis on impartial research and recommendations. Through our own extensive due diligence and research processes, we are able to avoid potential conflicts of interest or questionable investments. Our investment recommendations and portfolio management actions are a product of our own internal fundamental and technical research and investigation, and not from outside sources or purchased recommended lists.